Power threat and meaning – and its potential applicability in a Swedish Child- and Adolescent Psychiatric context

Professor David Harper, PhD AFBPsS (He/Him), Professor of Clinical Psychology, Programme Director (Academic), Professional Doctorate in Clinical Psychology, School of Psychology, University of East London

Dr Lucy Johnstone, Consultant Clinical Psychologist and Independent Trainer, Bristol, UK

Dr Lucy Johnstone and Professor David Harper are members of the author group which produced the Power Threat Meaning Framework, a major British Psychological Society project outlining a conceptual alternative to the diagnostic model of distress. It was co-produced with service users, and has attracted national and international interest since publication in 2018. The lecture will briefly outline the principles of the PTMF along with examples of how it has been translated into practice in the UK. There will be a particular focus on the implications for research.
